

DRAGON HUNTING IN THE HIGHLANDS WITH WINSTON THE BEAR

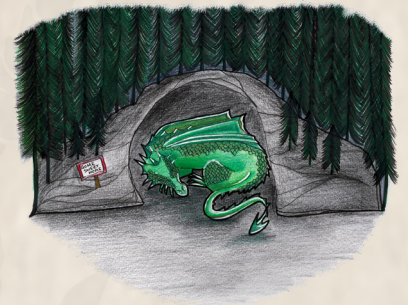

Winston thinks there could be a dragon, hiding out of sight.
Roaming around the Highlands, only coming out at night.
Can you find some proof that the creature is still around?
Please let Winston know about the clues that you have found!

#dragonhuntinginthehighlands

If you listen very closely, can you hear the dragon roar?
When he's sleeping in his lair, does he very loudly snore?
What dragon-like sounds do you think that you can hear?
Could this noise be a hint that the dragon may be near?

I heard _____

Try and find some clues that you can hold and feel.
Will you be able to prove that the dragon is surely real?
Is the dragon cold and slimy? Or smooth and warm as toast?
Now write down the clues that you liked the feel of most.

I touched _____

On his quest, Winston tried to trace the dragon's stinky scent. He thought that he could follow it and find out where it went. Take a deep breath and give the air a great BIG SNIFF. Maybe you will get lucky and detect the dragon's whiff!

I smelt _____

Can you scale a rocky mountain or climb an old oak tree? Take along your binoculars, to see what you can see! Use a magnifying glass and investigate small traces. The dragon might be hiding in the most unusual of places.

I saw _____

What would the dragon choose if he were to have a special treat? Can you find something tasty that a dragon would like to eat?

I found _____

